Playing Rules

- 2.2 No bowler may bowl more than one over per inning. First overs must be bowled by a female player.
- 2.3 A female player will be taking strike as opener.
- 2.4 The female player batting will not be allowed to bowl in the same match and vice versa. (If only 1 female player is available – team will play with 8 players only. Extra 25 runs penalty will be rewarded to the opponent team.)
- 2.5 Top 2 male batters not allowed to bowl in same match. (Those who are going to bowl will be able to bat No.4 onwards)
- 2.6 A coin toss will determine whether the winning team chooses to bat or bowl first.

Dismissal Modes for Batter

- 3.1 All standard modes of dismissal apply: Bowled, Caught, Stumped, Run Out, Handling the Ball, and Mankading.
- 3.2 A "one tip, one hand" catch is considered out for all batters. (No body support) Female fielders can use both hands for such catches.
- 3.3 If ball has touched to body directly, and then tip on ground – then one tip catch is not considered.
- 3.4 LBW is not applicable.
- 3.5 A batsman is out if the ball is hit directly outside the playing area (i.e., a six is out).
- 3.6 If the ball goes outside the playing area after touching a fielder or bowler, it is not out; it counts as 4 runs.
- 3.7 For a run out, the wicket must be broken with the ball in hand (not with any part of the body).
- 3.8 Hit Wicket: Not applicable to female players. If a female player hits the wicket while batting, the runs scored will be awarded, and it is considered a legal ball.

No Ball & Free Hit and Extras

- 4.1 Bowlers must remain within the designated box when bowling.
- 4.2 A no-ball will be called if the bowler touches / crosses either side of the box / line.

- 4.8 If the wicketkeeper collects the ball in front of the stumps on a missed Free Hit, it will be called a no-ball.

Bowling Action

5.1 Underarm bowling is not allowed.

 - b. Elbow Behind the Back: The elbow should not be positioned behind the back during the delivery. This could indicate an illegal action such as throwing rather than bowling, which is prohibited.
 - c. Arm Movement Behind the Ear: The arm must not move behind the ear, which is a key part of ensuring a legal bowling action.
 - d. Legs should be placed parallel: The leg should be placed parallel. While throwing the bowl, heel / toe can be moved, but leg should not be lifted completely. Stepping is not allowed.

5.3 Exception for Female Players: Above rules a, b, c and d are not applicable for Female Players.

5.4 A sideways bowling action is not allowed.

5.5 Full hand rotation during bowling is not allowed.

5.6 Bowlers must keep both feet grounded and inside the box while delivering the ball. Lifting the leg will result in a no-ball. (legs can be kept in any position)

- 6.1 A batsman cannot retire hurt unless injured, and this decision will be made by the umpire.

- 6.4 The retired batsman may return to bat only after all other players are either out or retired.
- 6.5 Any breach of these guidelines is considered a No Ball, and the bowler will be penalized as per No balls rules. This is a measure to ensure fairness and safety in the game.
- 6.6 If a player is retired due to injury, they can be substituted in the match from the squad. (Score will be marked on retired players name)
